AMS news

Busch Gardens, Virginia Beach, Washington, D.C., King's Dominion! These were just a few of the places Mrs. Jeffree Wilkerson's students travelled to Friday during math class. Now what do these locations have to do with math? Everything! As a part of her consumer unit Mrs. Wilkerson's students have been studying maps, computing mileage on the basis of the map scale, computing traveling time on the basis of distance and speed and computing gas consumption and cost. "These are the real economic problems our students will face one day. I just gave them a taste of practical economics I thought they could relate to," says Mrs. Wilkerson.

The students were divided into groups of three and four and given a Virginia road map and set of travel facts. The students were told they could plan a trip of their choice anywhere in the state. There were a few stipulations, however. The tip had to begin and end in Appomattox. The car to be used had an m.p.g. rating of 20 and the price per gallon for gas was to be $1.20. Time factors had to be computed on the basis of 55 miles per hour. The groups were alloted $50.00 per person for expenses and all expenses had to be deducted from their total allotment. Students had to choose a destination and on the basis of that destination figure mileage, the amount of gas used, the cost for travelling that distance and the time used in travelling. Students had to consider as a part of their expenses meals, recreational costs, tolls, etc.

The student's reactions to the project ranged from amusing to astonishing. "One group wanted to rob a bank to get extra money! Another ran out of gas and money and wound up hitch-hiking home," commented Mrs. Wilkerson. "Not only did the students gain a better grasp of maps and map skills but they learned that math can be fun!"

THE OCCUPATIONAL CLOTHING CLASS under Ms. Wanda Royal of Appomattox County High School has been busy as a bee for the past two weeks. The students have been engaged in an activity of making curtains for the FFA/FHA camp in Smithfield, Virginia. For the boys' dorm the curtains will be blue with white polka-dots and the girls' dorm curtains will be red with white polkadots. A special thanks goes to Mr. Grover Beasley for acquiring the fabric needed. The fabric was purchased jointly by the ACHS FHA, AMS FHA, ACHS HERO, ACHS FFA, and AMS FFA. The following students worked on the project: Phyllis Bagby, Blanche Bagby, Faye Clark, Juanita Fitch, Mary Haskins, Juanita Hurt, Tammy Martin, Debbie McCoy, Kathy Megginson, Virginia Robinson, Laverne Watts, and Betty Johnson.

Program value noted

Title I administrators meeting in Williamsburg on March 16-19 were given the latest Impact Data on how well Title — teaching-learning objectives have been met.

Without extra help from Title I, it can be expected that Title I eligible students would gain approximately 7 months in reading in the regular classroom. This is based on a student who scored below grade level at the beginning of the school year and did not receive any instruction in addition to regular classroom activities. The actual gain was .9 months statewide.

Another method of reporting theses successes is in Normal Curve Equivalents or NCE's. These scores were specifically designed to reflect Title I gains made over and above the gains which would have been made with regular classroom instruction alone. An NCE gain of 0 means the student gain was equal that expected from regular classroom instruction alone. Any additional achievement gain, the gain due to Title I instruction, would result in NCE gains greater than 0.

The greatest gains statewide were in the first grade and 14 NCE's.

Happiness is 4-H

By FRANK SWEET
Extension Agent

Fifty-eight 4-H'ers participated in this past Saturday's Presentation Contest at Appomattox Elementary School. Winners from the program will go on to represent Appomattox in an area contest in Rustburg on Saturday, April 17.

As gardening time approaches, 4-H'ers need to remember to plan ahead for entries in the next Five County Fair. Although September is a long way off, it is not too early to begin planning for some late vegetable plantings in order to have some fresh ripening vegetables in late summer. Also, livestock exhibits should be selected early for best results.

* * *

Senior 4-H'ers need to begin thinking about 4-H achievement records. Although the records are not due until late July, now is the time to begin preparation of these accumulated 4-H records. The Extension Office has a supply of forms and instructions for completing the records. We also have several copies of outstanding achievement records that have been submitted by 4-H'ers in past years.

* * *

The new swimming pool at Holiday Lake 4-H Center is well underway and should be completed before mid-May. Donations are still being accepted and may be sent directly to Mrs. Preston Willson, 1409 Trents Ferry Road, Lynchburg, Va. 24503.

Appomattox 4-H'ers began receiving 4-H camp applications this week. Application are due in before June 11 and may be turned in at any time. Our 4-H'ers will attend camp during the week of July 5-9.

The Senior District 4-H Contest is set for Saturday, May 8, at Appomattox County High School. 4-H'ers from a nineteen county area will participate in programs at ACHS.

Baseball team keeps winning

The Raider varsity baseball team continued their winning ways last week with victories over Prince Edward and Buckingham, to raise their season record to five wins and no losses.

Against Prince Edward Tuesday, the Raiders jumped into a 5-1 lead in their half of the first inning on key hits by Jody Williams (double) and Kevin Mitchell (home run with one on).

The Raiders scored another run in the second inning, but Prince Edward scored four in the top of the fourth to narrow the Raider lead to 6-5.

The Raiders increased their lead by one in their half of the fourth, but in the fifth inning, Prince Edward exploded for four runs to take a 9-7 lead.

Appomattox stormed back in their half of the fifth inning with five runs to ice the 12-9 victory. The runs came on walks by Phelps, Mann, Williams and Mayberry, singles by Allen Edmonds and Rodney Bryant, a sacrifice line drive by Gary Ferguson, and a double by Tim Bennett.

M. J. House came on to relieve Kevin Mitchell in the fifth inning, and was credited with the win. Greg Mayberry relieved House on the mound in the final inning.

With the homers by Mitchell and Mayberry, there were three doubles recorded by Williams, Mayberry and Bennett.

Coach Howard Clabough commended the team on their base running against Prince Edward. The Raiders had five stolen bases in the game.

Friday night's game against Buckingham was the Raiders' "best so far this season," according to Clabough.

Greg Mayberry went the distance on the mound, and allowed only two hits while recording eight strike outs and allowing only one walk.

Buckingham's only run against the Raiders came on a pass ball in the third inning, and the Knights held a 1-0 lead until the fourth inning, when the Raiders scored two. Appomattox scored two more in the fifth and two more in the seventh to cap the win.

The Raiders recorded nine hits against Buckingham, including two triples by Allen Edmonds. Bryant and Williams each got two RBIs in the game, and Ferguson and Edmonds got one RBI each.

The Raiders had four stolen bases against Buckingham. For the Knights, W. Gowin and Hickman recorded hits.

The Raiders have recorded 49 hits in the first five games this year, including eight doubles, three triples and five home runs. Jody Williams leads the team in runs batted in with 12 of the total. Mann, Mayberry, Bryant and Bennett all have seven RBIs for the Raiders.

Softball team loses one, wins two

The Raiderette softball squad dropped their second game this season last Tuesday to Prince Edward, then won their third and fourth games of the season Thursday and Friday against Altavista and Buckingham.

"A combination of walks, errors and poor hitting resulted in the loss," said coach Mary Tolley after the game. The Raiderettes walked 10 Prince Edward players, committed 18 errors, and got only six hits in the game.

The Raiderettes were never really in the game, as Prince Edward took a 3-0 lead in the first inning. The Raiderettes scored five runs in the fifth and four runs in the seventh inning, but the nine runs were not enough to overcome the 13 runs compiled by Prince Edward.

Kim Hancock went two for three at the plate against Prince Edward. Hancock, Lolita Preston and Robin Paulette all hit doubles for the Raiderettes.

It was a different story Thursday against Altavista, however, in a contest the Raiderettes won, 16-1.

The game was a no-hitter for the Raiderettes. Angie Murray pitched the first part of the game for Appomattox, then was relieved by Cindy Covington.

The Raiderettes collected 17 hits and committed only two errors enroute to the win, their third of the season.

Preston, Hancock, Kim Carter and Marsha Cheatham all had heavy bats for the Raiderettes, combining for eight hits and 11 RBIs.

We got good hitting from Carter, who hit a bases-loaded triple in the third inning," Coach Mary Tolley said. The Raiderettes scored nine runs in that inning.

Robin Paulette and Vicki Cheatham received laudits from the coach as well. Each player had two hits and two runs against Altavista.

The Raiderettes were hot on the base paths, as well, stealing 12 bases in the game. High honors in this department went to Marsha Cheatham, who stole four bases during the game.

The Raiderettes again romped against Buckingham, scoring 12 runs in the first inning in a 24-2 victory, the fourth of the season.

The game was never really a contest, as Appomattox compiled 18 hits and committed only one error, while holding Buckingham to four hits.

One highlight for Buckingham was a solo homer by J. Brown, for one of the Lady Knights' two runs.

Kim Hancock was the hot hitter against Buckingham, with a three-for-three performance at the plate, including a double, a home run and six runs batted in. Other hot hitters were Robin Paulette (two for two), Marsha Cheatham (one for three including a double and one RBI), Kim Carter (three for five, a triple and one RBI), Marlene Ferguson (three for three, a double, a triple and one RBI), Jacquetta Booker (one triple, one RBI), and Vicki Cheatham (two for three, a double and three RBIs).

The Raiderettes were scheduled to play Rustburg Tuesday at home, and will face off against Buckingham Friday at home. Next Tuesday, the Raiderettes will play Altavista at 4 p.m. at Altavista.

Golf team wins second match

The Raider golf team won their second match of this season last week against Liberty, bringing the team's record to two wins, one loss.

Raider Richard Guill was medalist for the match, shooting at 78 during the 18-hole match at Falling River Country Club. Bobby Carter shot 92, Mike Richardson shot 98 and Christ Tolley shot 100 for Appomattox.

"Low scores for Liberty were recorded by Tracy Newman, who shot 82, and Derek Suitt, with an 85.

"We were naturally pleased with the win," said Coach Coty Dickerson after the match. "I was a little concerned before the match, since this was the first time we've shot 18 holes, but the kids handled it very well."
